Fuel farm concrete works June 2023

Dear Neighbour,

Western Sydney Airport (WSA) is commencing concrete pours for one of the buildings at the Aviation Fuel Farm site. Works are being completed by WSA's Terminal and Specialty Services contractor, Multiplex.

The fuel farm will provide facilities for the delivery, storage and dispensing of aviation fuel to service the operations of Western Sydney International (Nancy-Bird Walton) Airport, including:

- Storage tanks and pipework
- Pumping and testing equipment
- Tanker truck pumping infrastructure
- Administration and workshop buildings
- Supporting services infrastructure
- Pavements and parking.

When will work commence?

Works will commence from Monday 26 June 2023 and continue until Friday 07 July 2023, weather permitting. Working hours are Monday to Friday 4am – 8pm. Works will include pouring concrete for one of the buildings at the fuel farm site. The early start is required due to the duration of the pour, maximising the amount of time that the concreters work in daylight, and ensuring safety.

How will you be affected?

We will be using concrete boom pumps, lighting towers, and other construction machinery to conduct this work.

You can expect to see an increase in vehicle movements on Adams Road and Anton Road, including concrete trucks and light vehicles to and from the site entry.

Mitigations include angling lighting towers away from resident properties and directing concrete truck drivers not to idle outside resident properties.

Please refer to the map on the following page for the exact location of the work.

We will continue to work closely with our neighbours as we deliver this project and other projects within the airport site to build Western Sydney International (Nancy-Bird Walton) Airport and we will update you as work progresses.

For further information or enquiries regarding these works or other airport construction activities, please contact our information line on 1800 972 972 or send an email to info@wsaco.com.au.
